

DAN TROMMATER

NOT YOUR ORDINARY MIRACLE WORKER

The Subjective Realities Show

Create indelible memories & challenge perceptions

This engaging performance dives deep into a fundamental truth in a thoroughly entertaining fashion – that reality is subjective - and what's 'truth' for one person, isn't necessarily 'truth' for another. In addition to being a sought-after speaker and trainer, Dan truly enjoys getting back to his roots and providing entertainment for events. His one-man show, Subjective Realities, is perfect for functions from awards banquets to holiday parties. This is much more than a simple 'magic show' - it's an entertaining extension of his keynotes and training sessions.

*"Nothing exists except atoms and empty space;
everything else is opinion."*
